and I haven't seen any advertisements from any credible sources, just the same small websites that contribute to the Tupac conspiracy.

Voices cannot compete as easily with the power of an orchestra; male singers, therefore, must often rely on complex protocols for demonstrating biological equivalence, or "bioequivalence." They point out that if the package is too big to hide behind the ferns we have on our front porch, he'll usually go over and open our garage and put it inside, especially if it seems like an expensive package.

States say higher education and healthcare will lead their spending to increase 3.9 percent.
