i don't know if the drops have helped with the acid in his throat, but his digestive system is working a lot better and i think that means that less stuff is coming back up they meant was simply that energy, everywhere, spreads out as much as it can (and that spreading out